Internet Explorer Compatibility Setting for GMIC Express

Starting with Microsoft Edge version 87 and above, which was released the week of November 19, 2020, Edge introduces a new function where clicking on the Internet Explorer icon will automatically redirect you to Edge. Microsoft claims that this redirect is ONLY for sites on their compatibility list. However, our tests have indicated that this may happen when you first click on the Internet Explorer icon before it even launches a site. There is a work-around for this that works at the present time, but this is subject to change in the future as Microsoft continues to work toward disabling Internet Explorer completely. As of 2/3/2021 here are the steps to disable this redirect:

1. Open Edge and click on the three horizontal dots button in the upper-right and click on Settings:

2. In the Settings menu, click on the Default browser section:

3. In the Default browser section, locate the “Let Internet Explorer open sites in Microsoft Edge” setting and change that drop-down selector to “Never”:
